"Homeschool Will Not Save Them"

by Scarlett Clay

"The truth is that only Christ can move upon human hearts inclined toward sin and do a work of regeneration. It will be Christ that moves upon the heart of a child if they are educated at home, and it will be Christ that moves upon the heart if they are not. Christ is the hero of Christian homeschool, not us parents." Read the article.

CCHE Note: Homeschooling provides a rich environment for learning, a loving environment for nurturing, and a bedrock round-the-clock environment for sowing seeds of truth, sharing the gospel, and instructing in righteousness. While serving as the primary educators of our children is a tremendous blessing and privilege, we must never trust in it, or anything else we do as a formula for saving our kids. Only Jesus saves. Sometimes we need to pause and remind ourselves of this.

"Do Homeschoolers Need Sports and P.E.?"

by Tracy Klicka

"I recall standing on the field grouped with my classmates--I was the freckled, introverted, pudgy kid--and as the team captains started picking the members of their team, the number of kids around me grew smaller. Soon, I was the only one left. No one wanted me on their team. I had never felt more alone or unwanted in my life." Click here to read the article.
